Ego States

Child Ego State
 In our child consciousness we give little meaning to ourselves, we simply discover that our needs get met right now by those around us. We may feel small and weak or angry. We may be unwilling to take responsibility for the manner in which our feelings and behavior are exhibited. At school, at home, or every moment about our needs.

Adolescent Ego State
 In the part of us that contains our adolescent energy, we may avoid emotions and feel detached from the world of consciousness, so frequently not to realize that we are against our larger life roles. We may refuse to be in a relationship. Sometimes we may study, we may work, we may respect, or we may just assume a neutral stance. We may be unwilling to express our central feelings about a situation and think others have control over our life.

Critical Parent Ego State
 In our parent approach to life from our past parents. This part of us is a model through we know what kind of roles, how they have to be fulfilled. From this ego state, we can be critical, judgmental, disapproving, judgmental, and judgmental with ourselves and with others. When functioning from our inner parent we are able to be a strong, steady and secure presence in life, thus becoming the newly responsible parent.

Adult Ego State
 From our adult state, we are able to consider our options and choose a direction for a situation. We are concerned to be sure others are healthy, happy, and successful, and we are able to be healthy, responsible, and able to be heard, or to be heard. Instead of being out of ourselves emotional states from the past, we make choices about ourselves from the present moment.

Ego Voices
 Not doing it right
 Not perfect
 I'm not getting anything.
 Why is theirs better?
 I can't do this.

Core Chakra Guide

- The crown chakra, or seventh energy center, is located at the top of the head. Here our relationship to Spirit connects us with the spiritual realm.
- The sixth energy center or brow chakra, is located in the forehead. Here we think, evaluate, and learn from our experience in concrete, abstract, and intuitive ways.
- The fifth body center, or throat chakra, is located in the throat area. Here we work with our personal will and the expression of truth.
- The fourth chakra, the heart center, is located in the center of the chest and have our experience love, grief, compassion, and kindness.
- The third chakra, or solar plexus, is located in the upper abdomen, in the stomach area. The solar plexus serves as the seat of our personal power and of issues of self-esteem, responsibility, and self-respect.
- The second body center, the sacral chakra, is located in the lower abdomen just below the navel. This energy center provides the center for our sexuality, creativity, and abundance.
- The root chakra is located at the base of the spine, and corresponds to the legs, feet, and tailbone. Issues such as our survival, sense of security, and connection to our tribe live in this center. This chakra is positioned closest to the earth and is significant in our relationship to her. If we feel disconnected from the element of Earth or become inattentive, pulling energy up from the earth can help to ground, anchor, and connect us to Earth's stable energy.
