

Insights on Ceremony from the Book World Bridger by Juliet and Jiva Carter

Ceremony is not exclusively of the mind or emotions or even a combination of both. It is an alchemical coalescence, a wedding, inspiring the brain chemistry to unfetter the intellect from its dogmatic entrenchment within the linear space time continuum.

Ceremony bridges the chasm between a culture bled of its elemental consciousness and its shamanic roots.

Ceremony is a language that transcends time and culture, it is the solution that exists outside of the problem.

Our analytical skills evolve from a brain that is 4/5ths inactive, ceremony engages the parts of the brain that go beyond the logical, rational, linear conditioning we have all experienced.

Ceremony takes us into a higher vibration of healing that honors us as magnificent masterpieces of human design and allows a graceful movement into a state of original innocence.

This higher frequency healing shifts our focus to the cerebral cortex, denying the reptilian brain its monopoly over our conscious perception. Overstimulation of the reptilian brain is both initiated and stabilized by self-perpetuated terrorist concerns, the perception of what it takes to survive, by erroneous archetypal definitions of God, by the retardation of our natural ability to translate light within our physical body.

The manipulation of frequency has galvanized within the collective psyche, a sense of shame and guilt. The dominance of the reptilian brain is triggering adrenal toxicity, a powerful hormone in balance it is causing a myriad of physical mental and emotional diseases.

The cerebral cortex is the temple of remembrance that holds the original human blueprint prior to genetic modification and manipulation. This blueprint defines the human entity as an emissary of source. It is the potency of the divine made manifest through us.

As the arena of reference for this identity, the cerebral cortex is stimulated through ceremony. This activates an influx of electromagnetic life force in the human system that carries the immortal harmonic, so the quintessential human definition is re-affirmed, not only intellectually but physically, emotionally and hormonally already residing within the original human blueprint.

This alchemical combination inherent within encoded reaches deeper than psychoanalysis and galvanizes a new behavioral concordance within the archetypal arena of the psyche.

Rather than adopt a new behavioral sanity through an intellectual idea of it, ceremonies are alchemical affirmations that celebrate the inherent perfection that resides in the innocent heart of each human, raising the desired model of human behavior and the intellectual arena and into the field of experience.
