Awakening Imaginal Cells

Accessing our "imaginal cells" is another way of describing connecting to our future selves that are awaiting to be born into the world. These cells are always available and ever abundant. They regularly renew our hearts, minds and spirits. They are a very valuable part of us that already have an existence in another realm. Linda Star Wolf says, "It's as if they have already lived in the future; they are the seeds of the future that are downloading into our human energy fields and into our human levels of consciousness."

"If we can tune in to the imaginal cells, we can open ourselves up more easily and allow them to come in and create. This is what they do anyway, naturally over time, with or without our consent. However, when we consciously invoke them and actively surrender to the process of change, we accelerate the process of allowing the imaginal cells entry so that we can bring our newest incarnations in more quickly and speed up our evolutionary process as it pertains to consciousness and making the quantum leap."-- Star Wolf
